EC Series

Thanks to years of research and development the EC series offers massive energy savings over its predecessors with up to a 46% energy saving on some models.

Hydrocarbon refrigerant has a zero ozone depletion potential and an ultra low global warming potential of <20 making it kind to the environment whilst saving energy and reducing your carbon footprint.

All EC series cabinets are fitted with an externally mounted digital temperature controller to ensure a consistent temperature and easy monitoring.

The full length door handle of the EC series is formed as part of the door and is therefore extremely hard wearing and allows for quick and easy opening of the cabinets.

All units have fan assisted condensers for rapid temperature pull down.
